THE GREAT SOLDIER DYING

The alarming intelligence from General Grant has increased the anxiety and sorrow with which aimost the entire population anticipates his death. A camp of confederate veterius, the Lee camp of Richmond, have just set their sympathies and condolences to the "aminent modder, General U. S. Grant," recalling the times when he has "shown himself a two sel-dler and a friend of the confederate soldier and this camp." As he sits in the snadow of teath, uncomplainingly awniting its stocke, the arrows of malice and slander and levity are no longer simed at him, except by a few thangulficinit persons who seek distinction in meanness and de-upon him. The people intrusted to it is command hid and property without sint, depending, under God, upon him to bring tol a transphal conclusion the mighty civil war, whose isflow years later the highest honors of the nation were equiferred upon him twice, and a large minority of the people demanded his sep ond re-election to the highest office in their gift. Since then he has been overtaken by mistortune Since then he has been overtaken by misfortune, calumny and infirmity, and now, the virtim of sharpers, stripped of fortune, he bravely wals for death, trying with the remnants of his strength to complete the record of the history he has made. If the great ellent man were to speak of the last conflict, in which his antagonist is the King of Terrors, we could almost hear him say in words like those of the dismitse. him say in words like those of the dauntiers English admiral "Here die I, Richard (renville, with a juyful and quiet mind for that f bave ended my life as a true soldier ought to de that bath fought for his country, queen, religio and honor, whereby my soul most joyfully de-parteth out of this body, and shall always leves behind it an everlasting lame of a valual, and true soldier that has done his duty as he was

Senator Sherman has not received much sympathy in his ill-tempered self-assertion re-specting the new arrangement of the senate committees. When he left the senate to become committees. When he left the senate to become secretary of the treasury he was the chairman of the finance committee. In due course of time Senator Morrill was advanced to that chairmanship, but when Sherman returned to the senate four years later Morrill, as it is well mown, offered to relinquish it in order that Sherman might be reinstated. But other members of the committee and the caucus of repub-ican senators would not agree to this, and Mr Sherman was put second on the committee. He did not like this, and took no pains to conceal his displeasure. In the late rearrangement he demanded the chairmanship, and when he found that the cances was not going to yield to him he lets it, and has declined to be a memberof the committee. He says that as it is now nade up it is a democratic commutate, and he will have nothing to do with it. When asked o explain how it is a democratic committee he decimed to say anything more. It is supposed, however, that he had reference to the silver question. Two of the republican members of the committee, Allison and Jones, are silver men, and as the committee stands six republicans to five democrats, this gives the either men, and contact the committee of the commi gives the silver men a majority. Among other things which he is reported to have said is that "the New England influence is too strong in the senate." This is not a new complaint among ern men. It is difficult, however, to prevent that section from having a strong influence in the senate so long as it persists in being rep-resented by such men as Edmunds, Morrill, Hoar, Dawes and Hawley The same complaint used to be made concerning the south, and the reason was the same. The southern states ac-lected their representatives in the national coun-tle upon public grounds. They sent the men to Rashington who could exercise the most just iende there, and kept them there from term to term. They never tolerated the notion that a mura should be elected United States senator be-cause he wanted the place, or because he or his

After a hot fight Hendricks has gothen in appointed postmaster at Indianations. This drives the wedge deepty into the split of the in diana democracy. Aquila Jones, Heedri ke' postmaster, is an old bourbon fessit of thice posimister, is an old bourhon fussil of three scorp and ten years, who has stood with four driess through the whole of old topperhead Ton's infamous political career, and, like Hen driess, will never cease to mourn over the great political changes of the last thirty years. The contest in the democratic party of Indiana is a contest between this abdumb bourhon element and the newer blood of the party. It has singled the party index the between the last the first property of the two vided the party under the banners of the two rival chiefs, Hendricks and McDonald An inrwal chiefs, thendricks and Micronau An in-cident of this "inprry war" was the contest over the Indianapoist postoffice, and Hendricks, walking away with the prize, gets Michonald anulibed again It is said that S. Senator Edmunds, the author of the senate recolution warning President Burrios not to make an attack upon Nicaragua, is a strong advocate of the idea that the United States should deminate the other American republics. It is en cy directing for a time the foreign policies of the country. Though not the chairman of the foreign affairs committee, he exercises by the force of his intelligence and will a controlling influence over it. The whole plan of recuproci-ty restless negotiated by Freinighuyson originat-cust by the trees of the of vith him. He is the great defender of the Nazarsgua canal, and so has taken the lead in insisting open the forcible suppression of Barnos. He has great influence with Secretary Bayard, and it is safe to conclude that whatever as done in this Central American business will be with his approval. He has been trying to in-duce the administration to send again to the ser ate the Micaraguan treaty

delphia Trines attributes to Secretary Bayard the remark that "it looks as if the irresistible pro-gress of ovents within the past few years is fast forcing the United States into a new domajture in to diplomatic policy as far as the American republics are concerned. It is also said that the president is inclined "to take an active part in the furtherance of American interests in that direction." It is believed, in short, that there is substantial accord between the adminstration and the pronounced views of Senators WASHINGTUN, March 22.—The political situration in Indiana is undergoing an interesting diange that promises to decide the supremacy of Hendricks or McDonald Mr. Hendricks has walked all over McDonald with nails in his heats for several weeks, and McDonald has meekly sulmitted in order to avoid a breach in the party, which might endanger the interests of he whole party in the state, and probably in the whole party in the state, and probably in the nation. The con militee on instantians reported mineteen challed that could retain the confidence of the con stated visits, and several informal ones. In these bids repres of periodicals and papers have been distributed, and time has been spent inquiring individually into the condition and needs of the in makes. The increasing number of young criminals aftines attention and is hitting. Through the afforts of the union a law has been passed at the last assisting the largest and grid aid society or other instrumentality through which criminal minors can be been pararily cared for or placed out in homes. And to this erd the philamthropic work of the present day finds itself both halt and main without the aid of social science. We are not to be deceived by institutions. They may relieve, they may shall from our view, they may simulate cure, but they cannot present. Even while we visit them, or white we sit together to-night to give them a passing thought, the sources from which they are supplied are full and overflowing. Society must deeply search the secres sources, and remedy neglects by the persistent and constructive. Already the work of addea ion is reaching out in this direction. We hall the attempts at legislation to sow in our public schools the seeds of temperance. We witness the effort of society to educate by kindengartons and otherwise, neglected and bounders children. We welcome the potential of an enlightened press. We hall as a great light, be work of associated charities, which in our einstern cities are organized to prevent pauperson and encourage the poor by helping them to help themselves, and we behieve that the ax is afready had at the root of the tree that the realistrength of the gospel of Christ is yet to be put for h for the redempt on of society, through he eforts of thuse who are strong, to lift the weak, and through the faith that the "happinessiand safety of any part of society depends upon the regeneration of the whole".

STOCK SHIPMENTS IN ALL DIRECTIONS -() :-STICK SEPRENTS IN ALL DIRECTIONS — Completion of the several railway systems connecting Gregor with the cast has hear of no small benefit to the stock interests of this state and the account feature. It has made the great mark its of the Mississippi valley accessible with at the tedious and expensive work of driving long distances to railways. Last with a simple that the carloads of horses from White Malls, to Chengo over the Northern Pacific was notified by The Originals A. Yesterday twenty carloads of cattle composing a special trun. Wall, to Chicago over the Northern Pacific was noticed by The Organostas. Y asterday twenty corloads of cattle composing a special truin, left the same city for thougo over the Oregon Shirt Line. To enight a carload of horses simped by R. B. Charlien of La Grande to this city will go to ban Francisco by the stean er State of California. Mr. Charlien bas a so hade arrangements to ship several car kads of cattle from LaGrance to San Francisco via Parilland. Within the past week carloads of horses have been shipped from various points in eastern Oregon to Fargo, Larunia, Cheyenne and Ogden. Indeed such activity in the stock incustry in a it been known for years in the month of March and prospects for the summer are to coming. The stockmen have much to be thankful for. The heavy snows of December and January did not kill many cattle and haves, but clothed the earth so warmly that a most abundant food supply has alrendy been sent forth! It doesn't make any difference where the stock is sold the money comes back to the the stock is sold the money comes back to the ington street in the cars yesterday a reporter heard two old residents talking about one of the earliest settlers of this city, whose impdest real dence stands a little way from B street. 'The earliest settlers of this city, whose modest residence stands a little way from B street. The man who lives there,? said one, 'is a nullion are, but is a molest kindly hearted man, who puts on no style on account of his wealth. He was a tanner by hade and arrived here deal broket. His first raise was made by buying a call skin on credit, tanning it and selling it for $10. By industry, diagence and attention to business he was smalled to nequire considerable property and the increase in its value has made him one of our wealth ast clusters. He says that if he were younger he could, with $500 capital, start in the tunning business new and make a fortune. "He might find his mistuke," and aman who had been listening to the conversation, 'for times are different now from the days when he came here. A man who has no money cannet get tusted for a skin, and even if he could after tanning it he could not got $10 for it." And the speaker got off and made a strught shoot for the brewery to spend his list nickel for beer.

NOT WANTED AS JI. nons. -- In the last special venire for jurous issued by Judge Smith of the state circuit court and returned by Sheriff Jorstate Orcuit court and returned by Sheriff Jordun, impeared the names of Fil Chamberlain and Gw. of ox. While both these men are citizens, yet Judge Sinth belived that every person who rame before his court had a right to a trial lefore a jury of his peers, and accordingly Messis Chamberlain and Cox were excused from further attendance, being notified that their exvices were not needed. It is so seldom that a judge takes the trouble to inquire into the character of a juror that it is worthy of mention to his credit. One of these men, Cox, has frequently been arrested for beating his poor wife, and although her blackened eyes have given the his to her words, he has as frequently fright end her mits saying in court that it was an accident. A very proper man, he would have been, indeed, to sit upon a jury. The other Chamberlain, has borne the character of a "apport' so long in this city, that although he chalms to have reformed, his works have not yet been sufficient to induce the utmost confidence in his assertions.

MUTUAL MISTANE -Judge Deady rendered a decision yesterday morning in the U S circuit court in the case of George H Durham against court in the case of George H Durham against die Fire and Marine Su maurance company, upon the demarrer to the complaint, which was overruled. The court held that the bill showed there was a mutual mistake. The moured properly in question was owned by four persons and was intended to be insured for the benefit of one of the four, Theodore Liebe, who advanced the money to build the house. The mutual mistake spoken of by the court was in the company permitting the owner of a one-fourth interest to insure the whole properly, and in the usuared accepting such a policy. The house burned and the on inpany resisted payment of the policy on the ground that be she had no right to more time one-fourth of the insurance money. Mr. Purham is the assignee of Liebe. The defend and have still the right to make answer to the complaint, but the rilling of a mutual mistake is a great point in the plaintiff's favor.
